Celebrating Twenty Years In the Land of Kangaroos

"B4P continues to see the healing power of God released"

The B4P team cruised down the Napean River, one of the celebrations of our 20th mission in Australia! Many original members, folks we met 20 years ago were on board.

Eleana testified to the miracle she received twenty years ago when B4P prayed for her. She had slid off a marble step as a teenager injuring her back, an injury that worsened when she gave birth to her children. During prayer, she began to move in circular motions. "I felt very embarrassed, but Annette kept encouraging me just to go with the Holy Spirit. It was like I was doing the hula." In a back brace for many years, she was freed after twenty minutes of prayer through the power of Jesus Christ. She gave her brace away.

Two years later, Eleana had surgery for her Achilles tendon. She came to the B4P meeting. She pulled Annette aside, "Can I ask God for another miracle?" Her cast was just removed. After prayer, she was flexing her healed foot. The next day she went to the doctor. He scolded, "I told you to come in to see me right after the cast came off!" "I did," she answered, "I just had it removed yesterday." "No way could you have this flexibility," the doctor said. Eleana testified to the doctor about the power of God healing her foot.

Another woman said, "You prayed for me last year." Doctors told her she only had weeks to live. "And since you prayed for me...Well, here I am!" After many hugs she said, "I even went to Israel and wanted to send you a postcard. I still have it." Annette wiped away tears as she said, "Well send it to me now!"

Another young woman headed for college next year said she was in excellent health. Years ago, she had a tumor in her head. We prayed for her. The surgeon said her operation went “surprisingly” well, much less extensive than anticipated. And, contrary to expectations, all of her hair grew back.

Testimonies to the healing power of Jesus Christ continued all afternoon. And those are only testimonies from Australia. Thirty of the members of B4P in Australia have become international missionaries. Traveling to Uganda, Ghana, China, Italy, Israel, Brazil and even coming to the USA to pray for our nation, these B4P members are passionate for Jesus Christ. Each one operates in the healing power of God and, as a result, thousands of lives have been changed across the world.

Also, faithful B4P intercessors participate in missions from their Australian homes praying for teams in the field. Travelling to foreign countries is not easy these days. In heaven, B4P will discover the many blessings we have received because of those praying for each mission. We treasure our precious intercessors, vital members of each mission team that travels into the field. B4P in Australia identified a need and began a very successful prayer tent ministry. A team attends local festivals, sets up the tent, and offers prayer to participants. At some of these events attendees wear gruesome costumes. Louise says, “I tell them, ‘Oh, you really look like you need prayer.’” Nearly every person they approach receives prayer in the name of Jesus Christ.

Sally and Tim Worner lead the Australian team, planning and hosting team retreats, arranging and leading missions, and supporting the B4P team members throughout the year. Some B4P team members are separated by a five-hour-drive. Sally and Tim keep us all connected. New doors are opening as Sally and Tim plan their second mission to India, sharing the blessing of Jesus Christ in a new nation. They are fulfilling the hope we have long held of easily reaching Asia. Of course, B4P in Australia will go out to all the nations as the Lord directs, but the B4P team in Australia is well-positioned to minister in Asia. Now, through Sally and Tim, we are seeing the beginning of that vision unfold.

The Three Sisters is a famous geological formation visited by international tourists in the Blue Mountains of Australia. B4P recognizes God gave to us our own Three Sisters, the leadership of the Southwest Slopes. Led by Renae, team leaders Gillian and Sharron teach, spread the gospel, and meet to glorify God in the country where sheep are plentiful and rain is scarce. The drought brings enormous needs for spiritual strength and these sisters are fostering it.

Twenty years later, B4P continues to see the miracle working power of God released. Ministering at the Licorice Factory this year, Diane who had “bone-on-bone” pain and crunching in her knees, her tailbone, back and hips received prayer from Ed and Rob, a new B4P trainee. She testified with joy, “I am healed!” A loud shout of praise went up to Jesus Christ who paid the price for every healing.

We thank our partners for sending us to Australia twenty times. B4P members from Australia—missionaries, intercessors, Bible teachers, preachers—all serve for the glory of God bringing healing to the nations through Jesus Christ. Thank you Jesus Christ for 20 years of B4P in Australia.

Healing Without Borders Through Jesus Christ

The B4P Holy Convocation convened in the Blue Mountains of Australia this October as the Kookaburras laughed from eucalyptus trees. Sulphur-crested Cockatoos swept across the azure sky, flapping twice then gliding on white wings with an impressive 40 inch span. The Sulphur-crested Cockatoo is an excellent symbol for B4P Holy Convocation. As B4P prays together, we experience a blend of exerting effort and riding the wind of the Holy Spirit. In our four days of prayer, the first effort was to meet together. We make the choice, He makes the way. Some drove 4 hours or more to meet in the Blue Mountains (Ed, Nina, and I travelled from the USA for the event). Plus there are childcare arrangements to be made, facility costs to be paid, etc. The second effort involves singing, clapping, making music, waving banners of praise, and creative, personal, participation in worship. Our third effort is to recall B4P Holy Convocation guidelines: the only book we use is the Bible, reference the Scripture passage before it is read, never discuss denominations, TIP (take it personally, God gathered us to talk to us about us), and don't hold back. The fourth effort is listening to the Holy Spirit as we long to hear God's Voice. As we discern God's voice, we reach for words to express to each other what was clearly understood in our hearts. We make the effort, stretching to take hold of the lessons spoken in our prayer circle and apply them to our lives and the world-wide community of B4P.

We identified God's Holy Command to B4P. We are called to healing without borders through Jesus Christ. B4P teams release the healing power of Jesus Christ on the street, in schools, and in churches. B4P teams minister to refugees, orphans, and prisoners. B4P teams go in the name of Jesus to six continents to show the love of Jesus Christ is real.

We prayed for the area, as severe drought has brought economic hardship. Some have lost farms, some have despaired of hope. We prayed for the people, we prayed for beneficial rain. We prayed to be led by the Lord.

Our circle grew quiet, silence deepened, then a profound sense of the Presence of God weighed heavily in the room. I heard in my spirit, "I respond." The sense of we respond to God, God responds to us, the whole earth responds when we obey God, filled me. I turned with urgency to Hosea 2:21 and lifted my voice to overcome the sound of a great stirring wind outside. "In that day I will respond, declares the Lord. I will respond to the skies, and they will respond to the earth, and the earth will respond to the grain, and the new wine, and the olive oil and they will respond to Jezreel (which means God sows).

I peered out the window, what was that pounding sound? Rain poured from the skies, a blinding rainstorm. A chorus of praise and applause for the King reverberated through our meeting hall.

We took part in a heavenly call and response, like a Gregorian chant. Our Creator called to us to pray, we responded with fervor. He called to the clouds and they gathered, responding, and watering the parched ground.

A fresh awareness of the harmony of creation in tune with our Creator called to our spirits and we responded to Christ as one body. B4P continues to live healing without borders, praying and working in the hope that all will respond to the salvation God has sown for us through the life of His Son Jesus Christ.

Annette preaching at Hope for All Nations Egyptian Church, Australia

Ministry to Egyptian and Syrian Refugees

"Annette will have a translator tomorrow?" Sally spoke on the phone as she braved the ride in the jump seat in the back of our mission van. She was confirming arrangements for B4P ministry the next day. Sally said, "Annette, guess what?" I looked back and saw her face beaming as she announced, "You are going to be translated into Egyptian tomorrow! And the service will be livestreamed to thirty Arab nations!" The van full of B4P missionaries burst out in praise.

Hope for All Nations was the name of the church on the schedule Sally had made up for team members. Perfect for B4P ministry as we are called to the nations and focused on hope through Jesus Christ!

The next morning, B4P turned out in force to serve. As we entered the sandstone building, the music ministry was preparing. I imagine Abraham would have sung to the Lord in a similar way. Monitors on the walls displayed Arabic words to some familiar worship songs.

Raf extended his hand saying, "Thank you for coming. We are honored." In truth, God had honored B4P to send us to these precious people who had suffered the loss of homes and country. Louise noticed the cross tattooed on a refugee's wrist. She said, "People can die for showing the cross. This shows the depth of their faith in Jesus. Also, when they ask Christians for help, the tattoo shows that they are sincere in their request and not spies."

Many came forward for healing prayer, we didn't have enough translators to help. But Jesus doesn't need a translator. People testified of healings from pain and immobility. Many asked for prayer for family members living in fear, some in prison in the Middle East. We continue to pray and wait to hear good reports.

The pastor invited us to lunch and guided us to the hall around back. Men barbecued shish kebabs, women served flatbread and spiced rice. The pastor said, "You have to pray for me. I am going to Egypt in the next few days." He looked directly at me and said, "I will speak with churches in the suburbs of Cairo and see what I can arrange." Tears came into his eyes. "The Holy Spirit," he said. God may open a big door for B4P into Egypt in 2020.
